Forecast for Thursday 10 Oct 2024

Weather: Patchy rain, sleet and summit snow soon dying out with clear spells developing through the early hours. Then a largely dry and sunny start with patchy cloud developing for the afternoon. Cloud increasing through the evening with a few wintry showers edging into western fells, these falling increasingly as snow above about 600m.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Close to 100% at dawn falling to 75% for the afternoon, and falling to 40% in the west through the evening

Low cloud and visibility: Little or no cloud expected below summits at first but occasional cloud above 600-750m developing by the middle of the day, becoming periods at times, especially in the west, through the evening. Away from cloud visibility excellent with good panoramic views of surrounding fells and lakes, falling to several kilometres in early rain, sleet and summit snow and wintry showers later.
